Academically, our son is exposed to a breadth and depth of curriculum that is expanding his independent and critical thinking. However, the most important and impactful part of his education is beyond books, tests, and grades. The magic of Steward is how the faculty genuinely cares about each student, and encourages all that they uniquely offer the school, their fellow students, and society as a whole.

We chose Steward for its enriching and diverse learning environment. Not only does it provide opportunities to excel in academics, sports, music, and arts, but it also instills values such as honesty, respect, collaboration, and teamwork. My children look forward to school every day; this was the right choice for our family.
